THE STATE FAIR AND THE CONSTITUTION

by David Temple, President, Dallas Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution

The State Fair of Texas begins September 30 and with it comes the return of the Dallas Chapter to the Jane Douglas DAR House! Phil Cekal is looking for volunteers to assist with the information table in the DAR House. Tom Whitelock has put together some great pieces to encourage visitors to look into possible Patriot ancestors and membership in the SAR. Contact Phil to volunteer for this important opportunity. We need you!

On September 17 I attended the Constitution Day Luncheon presented by the Dallas Area Regents Council of the Daughters of the American Revolution. I quickly learned I was far outnumbered by the Daughter's present. The ladies of the James Campbell Chapter were wonderful to visit with, and I was soon joined by past Dallas Chapter President Jack Carney and his wife.

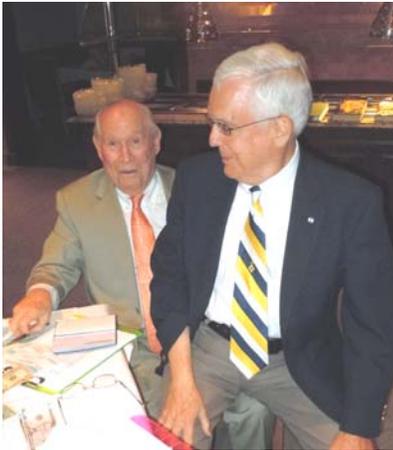

The excellent program, "American Ends in 'I Can'" was provided by musician Dave Tanner as a history of patriotic song in America. I never really paid attention to where the many tunes came from that were used to take "poems" to music. "Yankee Doodle" was written by the British to belittle the colonial militias they served with during the French and Indian War. Our national anthem was set to the tune of a popular British song written by John Stafford Smith for the Anacreontic Society. How many of us know "America, the Beautiful" was adapted to the late 19th century hymn, "Oh Mother Dear, Jerusalem."?

First Vice President, Bob Northcraft, has put together a great lineup of speakers this year who have focused on some aspect of the Constitution. Each and every one has been informative and I've learned something new each month.

We need You! Please join us on the second Saturday of each month for a nice breakfast buffet and excellent, educational program. See you soon.

Americanism Trivia Quiz (from July-August Issue): Question The year of 1781 did not start off well for the Continental Army. In January, there were mutinies among Continental Army units from two colonies. Which colonies were they, what were the issues, and what was the result?

Tired of poor living conditions and a lack of pay, and believing their three-year enlistments were up, Pennsylvania regiments mutinied and killed one of their officers. The mutineers then marched toward Philadelphia to confront Congress. Congress diffused the situation by promising the mutineers back pay. Many of them were discharged, and the remainder were furloughed until March. A smaller group of New Jersey men mutinied later in the month. Washington quelled the mutiny with other Continental units and executed two of the ringleaders.

New Americanism Trivia Quiz (Answer in the November-December Issue):

Around the years 1732-34 General James Oglethorpe, a military hero also had a philanthropic bent. He had headed an investigation of prisons and expressed special concern for debtors, who by English law could be incarcerated for their obligations. If he could offer a settlement south of the Carolinas, he could offer a new start to poor English and settle a region that could stand as a buffer to _____ power.

Fellow Compatriots,

We have a golden opportunity for recruiting new SAR members during the 2011 State Fair of Texas which runs from Friday, September 30, through Sunday, October 23. The Jane Douglas Chapter of DAR, which owns the "Continental DAR House" on the Fairgrounds, will open its doors from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day. They will have exhibits, show patriotic/historical movies, hold raffles, and operate their own recruiting table. They have offered us space for a recruiting table adjacent to theirs. We will have literature about the SAR, interest sign-up sheets, and room for a small exhibit on this table. We will likely meet and sign up prospects from all over Texas and out of State, and we will forward names and contact information to the appropriate chapters wherever the prospects live. Experience has shown that we will also get numerous prospects from the Dallas area.

Obviously, this is a large undertaking, but I believe that "the largest SAR Chapter in the galaxy" can muster enough volunteers to man the table for the entire 24 days. We will divide each day into two shifts, from 11 to 2, and 2 to 5. This means that we have 48 shifts for which volunteers are needed. Compatriot Phil Cekal has agreed to be the "point-man" for collecting and assigning volunteers according to their date and time preferences. You may sign up for as many shifts as you like on as many days as you like.

Please check your calendar now and send an email to Phil Cekal philcekal@yahoo.com

Sincerely,

H. Charles Baker

Dallas Chapter

PS:

Due to some DAR members who had reserved Parking Passes but had to cancel, we now have 3 more Parking Passes. Therefore I am happy to announce that Parking Passes will be available for men who work a minimum of 4 three-hour shifts (11-2 or 2-5, 2-5 only on Sundays).
